MEDICINAL.

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

$500 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Putte, Esq., of Allamont, Grady Co., Tenn. "She had other diseases and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicine and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her, I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membrane lining the stomach.

Collapse of a Skyscraper.

Five persons are known to have been killed, about a score injured, and eight or ten, all of whom are believed to be dead, are missing through the collapse yesterday of the steel skeleton of the Hotel Darlington, a 15-story apartment house in course of erection at 57 west Fourth-street, New York.

The steel frame work had been erected as far as the eleventh floor, and the structure was swarming with iron workers, masons and laborers, when, without an instant's warning, the upper floor sagged and collapsed, and the whole structure fell with a crash that was heard for blocks, and shook all the buildings in the vicinity.

A portion of the steel frame fell upon the rear of the Hotel Patterson, on west For y-seventh street, crushing in the wall of the dining-room and killing Mrs. Ella Lacey Storrs, the wife of Frank Storrs, a wealthy resident of Rye, Westchester county, as she was sitting at luncheon with the wife of Rev. Dr. Minot Savage, who escaped uninjured.

The other dead, so far as known, are Frederick Morrill, foreman of the Eobeling Construction Company; Forrell S. Fagan, a derrick man, and two unidentified men, apparently laborers.

The more seriously injured, with one exception, laborers on the building, are: Joseph Sinto, Andrew Maher, James W. Smith, Henry Strohe, Tony Smith, Dennis McGinnis, Frederick Weissennuller, Gottlieb Wittreue, E. Vidrol, Jose Geny and Ernest Meier, the last named a waiter employed in the Hotel Patterson.

Among those missing is Frank J. Allison, of the Allison Realty Company, the builders of the hotel, who is known to have been in the building when it fell.

Efforts to recover the bodies of the dead and rescue those imprisoned in the wreck were begun by the firemen immediately after the crash, and the work of searching the ruins will be continued all night. Owing to the enormous mass of metal wreckage days may elapse before all the bodies are recovered.

The cause of the disaster generally accepted is the overloading of the floors. That criminal carelessness is chargeable to somebody is shown by the fact that the building department had placed repeated "violations" against the building, the last one being filed yesterday at the instance of Inspector Charles French because "the side walls were more than two stories in advance of the front walls, and the floor beams were not properly bolted and tied."

In spite of this and previous warnings those responsible for the construction of the building went ahead, regardless of consequences.

Adjoining the collapsed building on the west is the four-story brownstone residence of Harold Brown. Some of the huge iron beams struck the side of the house and stove holes in the wall and roof and dislodged a part of the brownstone front, which was thrown to the street. The occupants escaped uninjured.

On the east side is a house occupied by A. Walpole Cragie as a school for boys. The pupils had gone home to luncheon a few minutes before the crash occurred. Some of the beams struck the house, tearing off a portion of the roof and smashing holes in the side walls.

Mrs. Storrs, whose husband is in London, England, was sitting at luncheon with Mrs. Savage when the crash came, and she and Meier, the waiter, were instantly buried under the debris of the roof and walls. Mrs. Savage barely escaped being struck, but her skirt was pinned to the floor by a mass of fallen bricks. Mrs. Storrs was breathing when extricated, but died within a few minutes. The waiter is believed to be fatally injured. The other occupants of the dining-room escaped unhurt.

Three hundred men worked all night in the ruins of the Hotel Darlington in an endeavor to uncover the bodies of the workmen who were carried down to death. Up to this morning five bodies had been recovered and rescuers reported that eight other bodies were in sight. There are sixteen injured men in the hospitals. Serious charges are made that inferior material was used, and that the work of construction was poorly done and one of the foremen has been arrested.

Russian Plan Criticized.

The Russian Gen. Dragomiroff, ex-governor general of Kiev and a well-known military authority, was summoned to St. Petersburg to take part in the deliberations in regard to the conduct of the war. The general severely criticized the policy of the government, and insisted that both fleet and army evacuate Port Arthur. He considered such retreat necessary in order to avoid greater disasters. This advice, not being welcomed, was energetically repudiated. Nevertheless, in military circles, Alexander is generally blamed, and it is considered that he has already committed such blunders that probably the whole fleet will be lost.

The czar has signed a decree instructing Minister von Plehve to adopt strict measures against patriotic street manifestations. It is held that these demonstrations are not only often inappropriate, because held to celebrate imaginary victories, but that they are also likely to produce counter manifestations. Many of the more enlightened people are not only disgusted with such artificial and more or less drunken exhibitions, but are opposed to the war, and some have ventured to protest.

Students in some of the high schools and universities have objected to royal addresses in regard to the war drawn up by the professors. Similar protests are made by pupils of the engineering institute and St. Petersburg Polytechnic School. The attitude of the pupils at a high school for women caused the minister to close the establishment. The anti-war feeling is very strong among the students.
